

18th Annual Neurology Resident Research Day

Friday, May 20, 2022

11:30 a.m.- 1:00 p.m.

Resident Research Poster Presentations

NI 1st Floor, Alumni Auditorium

RESIDENT RESEARCH DAY 2022 POSTERS

Amalia Peterson, MD

"The Association of Vasomotor Symptoms During the Menopausal Transition and Cognition in Later Life"

Andrew Michalak, MD

"Predictors of Seizure Freedom After Stereoecephalography-Guided Hippocampal Laser Ablation"

Dixon Yang, MD

"Physical Activity is Inversely Associated with Severe Intracranial Stenosis in Stroke-Free Participants of NOMAS"

Fernanda Carvalho, MD

"RBC Transfusions Are Not Associated with Complications or Poor Outcomes in ICH Patients"

Greer Waldrop, MD

"Accuracy of Automated Analyzers for the Estimation of CSF Cell Counts: A Systematic Review and Meta Analysis"

&

"Diagnostic Accuracy of GCS for Disorders of Consciousness"

Tommy Wilson, MD

"Direct Cortical Stimulation as a Mechanism of Seizure Control"

1:15-2:15 p.m.

Neurology Grand Rounds: Resident Research Platform Presentations

NI 1st Floor, Alumni Auditorium / Zoom

RESIDENT RESEARCH DAY 2022 PLATFORMS

Emanuele Barca, MD

"Complex v Dimerization as Regulator of Cell Metabolism, Beyond Leigh Disease"

Robert Rifkin, MD

"A Role for Metabotropic Inhibition in Tumor-Associated Epilepsy"

Greer Waldrop, MD

"Prolonged Unconsciousness is Common in COVID-19 and Associated with Hypoxemia"